Analysis of Stakeholder Feedback

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of the college plays a critical role in ensuring that educational quality is continuously enhanced by gathering feedback from its key stakeholders—students, alumin and faculty members. These stakeholders provide valuable input, which is systematically analyzed by the IQAC team. The insights gained are then used to make informed decisions and drive improvements for the upcoming academic sessions, ensuring that the institution evolves in response to the needs and concerns of its stakeholders.

To ensure comprehensive feedback, printed forms are provided to stakeholders, assessing various important aspects of the academic and institutional environment. These feedback forms cover areas such as:

- Course Learning Outcomes: Evaluating the alignment between course objectives and actual learning experiences.
- Syllabus Relevance and Reference: Feedback on whether the syllabus is up-to-date, relevant, and aligned with industry standards.
- Course Utility and Elective Options: Comments on the practicality and career relevance of courses, along with the diversity of optional papers offered.
- Teaching Compatibility with the Syllabus: Assessing whether teaching methods align with the syllabus and effectively support the intended learning outcomes.
- Scope for Syllabus Improvement: Stakeholder suggestions for enhancing the syllabus to make it more contemporary and relevant.
